

A New Father, Awestruck

F B \flat F C7

1

A new fa - ther, awe-struck; a moth - er so mild; A sta - ble; a A wom - an— con - sid - ered to have no real worth— Said, yes! She would
 As Jo - seph and Mar - y be - gan a new home, They suf - fered op -
 We hear in our own day the cries of the poor; We see in A -
 When some say that on - ly the wealth - y have worth, O God, we re -

F B \flat

7

man - ger; a dear, new-born child— God, as we i - ma - gine that fam - 'ly so bear your own Son here on earth. We hear her bold sing - ing! Her faith - ful words pres - sion from rul - ers in Rome. Then, flee - ing from Her - od to save their son's lep - po the ter - ror of war. In wom - en and chil - dren and men who must call where you lived here on earth. May we in your church serve the poor and dis -

F C7 F B \flat C7 F

13

blessed, We some - times for - get they were poor and op - pressed.
 soar: "God hum - bles the rich and God lifts up the poor."
 life, They looked for a land free from vio - lence and strife.
 flee, We glimpse, Lord, your life as a young ref - u - gee.
 tressed; For, work - ing for jus - tice, we give you our best.

Biblical references: Luke 2:1-20; 22-24; Leviticus 12:6; Matthew 2:13-18; Luke 1:46-55; Matthew 25:31-46 and Micah 6:8.

Tune: James Ramsey Murray, 1887. Text: Copyright © 2016 by Carolyn Winfrey Gillette. All rights reserved.

Email: bcgilllette@comcast.net New Hymns: www.carolynshymns.com

Permission is given for free use of this hymn by churches that support refugee relief efforts.